

Joseph Maley Foundation Joseph Maley Family Support

The Joseph Maley Foundation's Family Support (JMFS) program serves families and children in multiple ways, in collaboration with educators, schools, community organizations and attorneys.

Family Sponsor - $500

Navigating the Individualized Education Program (IEP) process can be daunting for families. JMFS facilitates collaboration between educators, schools, and attorneys as they work toward providing the best educational environment for students. In addition, families can utilize JMFS Sibling Workshops and Camps that provide opportunities for the personal growth of children who have a sibling with a disability.

Continuing Legal Education Sponsor - $250

From a legal standpoint, attorneys can broaden and deepen their knowledge base on legal rights and processes for families and children through Continuing Legal Education (CLE) sessions. Topics have included special education laws and protecting vulnerable populations.

Educator Sponsor - $150

Joseph Maley Family Support provides learning opportunities for teachers and administration to understand the IEP process and Indiana special education laws. This component is addressed by working with current teachers to provide training and resources and working with education students as they complete their undergraduate coursework.
